

Parallel Investigators

Parallel investigators are alternate, print-and-play versions of investigators from existing Arkham Horror: The Card Game products. These investigators, along with their advanced signature cards, are fully playable in any scenario or campaign.

☞ When building a deck with a parallel investigator, you may choose whether to use the original version or the parallel version of both their front side and her back side. Each version has its own advantages and disadvantages. You can also mix and match the two versions. This means that you can use both original sides, both parallel sides, the original front side and parallel back side, or the parallel front side and original back side.

☞ Regardless of which version of the investigator you use, you may also optionally upgrade their signature cards to their new advanced signature cards (replacing the original versions). These versions are indicated by the Advanced keyword. These are included only as a set. Doing so costs no experience, and may be done at any point between scenarios during a campaign. However, once this upgrade is made, it cannot be undone unless you are instructed otherwise.

☞ When building a deck with a parallel investigator, you must select a single parallel set to build from. You may not mix and match components from multiple different parallel sets. Similarly, if you choose to use advanced signature cards, you must use both advanced signatures from the same parallel set. Mixing advanced cards from different sets is not permitted.

☞ Regardless of which parallel set you have chosen for your investigator, rules that require you to upgrade or downgrade signature cards (such as those found in challenge scenarios) apply as normal.

"Look here, do you know the whole North End once had a set of tunnels that kept certain people in touch with each other's houses, and the burying ground, and the sea? Let them prosecute and persecute above ground—things went on every day that they couldn't reach, and voices laughed at night that they couldn't place!"

Additional Rules and Clarifications

Seal

As an additional cost for a card with the seal keyword to enter play, its controller must search the chaos bag for the specified chaos token and place it on top of the card, thereby sealing it. If there is a choice of which token to seal, the card's controller chooses. If the specified token is not in the chaos bag, the card cannot enter play.

A sealed chaos token is not considered to be in the chaos bag, and therefore cannot be revealed from the chaos bag as part of a skill test or ability.

When a chaos token is "released," it is returned to the chaos bag and is no longer considered sealed. If a card with one or more chaos tokens sealed on it leaves play for any reason, any chaos tokens sealed on it are immediately released.

Some cards (with or without the seal keyword) may also have abilities that seal one or more chaos tokens as part of their effect. This is done following the same process as above: searching the chaos bag for the specified token, removing it from the chaos bag, and placing it on the card. If the specified token is not in the chaos bag, the effect fails.
